

Sinclair Broadcasting is playing partisan politics with the public airwaves by disseminating an anti-Kerry ad posing as a documentary. Most voters receive their information from television. Democracy will not work if conglomerates force their politics upon viewers. These affiliates are also forced to air anti-Kerry editorials written by Sinclair owners. They are ordered to not air programs that read the names of dead soldiers.

This is not about free speech. This is about a conglomerate buying up stations and newspapers and then using them to force an agenda.

On the eve of an election the role of the media is to make sure that they portray an accurate picture of where the candidates stand. Sinclair's answer is to have Senator Kerry on after the ad in order to rebut. However, that is quite disingenuous... powerful images lined up against a speech? Who are they kidding?

I thought there were laws against using public airwaves to promote a political agenda? Why is the FCC silent on this issue? Why are you spending taxpayer dollars going after Howard Stern and Janet Jackson when the very fiber of our democracy is at stake? PLEASE TAKE ACTION!
